

Support Authors and Australian Literature

Become a friend of the Miles Franklin Literary Award

Australia's most prestigious literary prize

The Miles Franklin Literary Award is Australia's most prestigious literary prize.

Established through the will of My Brilliant Career author, Miles Franklin, the Award seeks to support authors and encourage the "the advancement, improvement and betterment of Australian literature".

First presented in 1957, the Award recognises novels of the highest literary merit that present Australian life in any of its phases.

Past winners include a 'who's who' of Australian greats, including Patrick White (inaugural winner), Thea Astley, Murray Bail, Peter Carey, Michelle de Kretser, Elizabeth Jolley, Tom Keneally, Amanda Lohrey, David Malouf, Frank Moorehouse, Tim Winton and many more. Throughout its 65+ year history, the Miles Franklin Literary Award has supported more than 300 authors.

The winner of the award currently receives $60,000.

Be a part of the legacy

If you share Miles Franklin's passion for Australian literature, consider donating to the Miles Franklin Support Fund (ABN 34 585 840 530).

Your donation will help secure the Award for future generations, support the growth of Australian literature, and generate prize money for the Award in perpetuity.

Donations from $2,000 are welcome.

All donations to the Miles Franklin Support Fund are tax deductible.

Friends of Miles Franklin

Miles Franklin was famous for her hospitality and called her friends "congenials".

Donors to the Miles Franklin Support Fund will be acknowledged on the Award website and in event collateral.
